

PRESS RELEASE

Participation of HALCOR at the conference of the Federation of Hydraulic Craftsmen of Greece (OBYE)

Hotel DIONYSOS – Larissa - April 6th & 7th, 2019

With great success and widespread participation, the conference was held on the subject of "Water Management, Energy Saving", in which HALCOR participated as a major sponsor.

Our company was mentioned during the opening speech of OBYE President Mr. D. Vargiamis who thanked us and pointed out our continuous offered support to the Federation and the wider industry through the actions undertaken.

HALCOR's Sales Manager for Greece, Mr. Vassilis Giotopoulos thanked OBYE and its Bureau for the invitation and the long term cooperation and referred to his presentation on how a Greek company with vision, strategy and persistence manages to be the first company in Europe in production of copper tubes achieving continuously increasing market shares.

In addition, HALCOR participated with a booth and distributed brochures with product information and the technical plumbing guide to the participants, while our executives were able to discuss topics and answer questions related to our products and applications.

Finally, proposals and discussions were made, on how the associations should work with Greek producers to ensure that through the training, lifelong learning and transfer of know-how the promotion of the most qualitative and competitive products is achieved in order to better meet the challenges and demands of the market.

The conference was attended by local operators, the Chairmen of the Plumbers Associations throughout the country and was organized and sponsored the Hydraulics Association of Larissa.
